4.2 The Volunteer will not post pictures or details of the people the Organization helps on social media without the Organization's written permission.

5. Safety, insurance and risk

5.1 The Volunteer will take reasonable care of their own safety and that of others, and will report any accident, injury or near miss to their supervisor at once.

5.2 The Volunteer understands that volunteering can carry some risk of injury, and that, except where the law does not allow it, the Organization is not responsible for injury or loss that results from those risks and was not caused by the Organization's negligence. The Organization's insurance, if any, is described in its policies.

6. Pictures and work

6.1 Anything the Volunteer creates for the Organization as part of the role belongs to the Organization. The Organization may take photographs at its events, and the Volunteer agrees that it may use them to describe its work unless the Volunteer tells it in writing that they do not agree.

7.2 When it ends, the Volunteer will return anything that belongs to the Organization, and the duties about privacy continue.

8. Training and support

8.1 The Volunteer will complete the training the Organization requires before starting and at the times it sets afterwards, including any training in safety and safeguarding. The Organization will pay for any training that it requires.
